

"I look at VisitAbility as a research and development project. Of course, we recognize the social aspect, but we are constantly striving to improve our products. We and the other Pennsylvania builders involved hope to learn from each other and ultimately come up with affordable VisitAble homes. Smart building – that's what it's all about."

Basic Home Access For Everyone

SCOTT CANNON, president of Cannon Custom Homes.

An industry-respected third-generation builder, Scott Cannon is the current president of Pennsylvania Builders Association and the winner of numerous awards for building excellence and social responsibility. Based in Glen Riddle, Delaware County, Cannon Custom Homes specializes in environmentally sensitive land development and energy-efficient residential construction, as well as custom home building and historic renovation.

Cannon design ingenuity and commitment to quality are distinctly discernable in its many communities including Villages of Penn Ridge for 55-plus adults, Yorktown-1781, Yorktown Crossing, Sunnybank Farms and Cochran's Meadow.

The builder's first VisitAble home is at Traditions at Inniscrone, an active adult community in Avondale, Chester County. The 1,641-square-foot ranch-style home is luxurious and easily accessible. It features two bedrooms, two full baths, a two-car garage and basement. Front and garage entries are both zero-step. Wide doorways and the open floorplan enhance lifestyle and add contemporary beauty to the home.
